Must Have Price On J. C., Fletcher Warns Trustees

First indication that the Carmel Unified School District may not slide into the Monterey Peninsula Junior College district on greased skids came at last night's Carmel school board meeting. Board member Dr. Grant Fletcher and financial advisor Howard Reed warned the board against calling an election for Carmel's annexation to the J. C. District before the Monterey Board sets the price Carmel and Pacific Grove will have to pay Monterey for the land and buildings of the college.

Monterey board decided last week that the price will be set after the elections. They won't give the college away, they assured their own taxpayers, and won't gouge Carmel and Pacific Grove, they told the latter. It would be a "fair" price, they stated.

But once Carmel and Pacific Grove have voted to annex to the junior college district, no withdrawal is possible, and they must accept the price Monterey asks, regardless of any difference in interpretation between what the seller and the buyer consider "fair."

An "informative" item on last night's agenda stated: "A petition will be ready at the March 16 board meeting, calling for an election to annex to Monterey Peninsula Junior College District."

Dr. Fletcher said that the cost of the Junior College to the other two districts should be established first. "I doubt that they (Monterey school board) will be ready by March 16." He added that Monterey board had agreed, some months ago, to set the price before election.

Financial Advisor Howard Reed urged that the Carmel board "get more substantial figures, at least two months before election."

According to a staff report on cafeteria operations in the Carmel district, a fifteen cent increase in meal price (from 35 to 50 cents) would wipe out the annual $19,993 deficit now paid by the school district and put the cafeterias on a self-supporting basis. The board held over decision until next meeting, because member George Yates, who had asked for the report, was absent.

City Buys Group Health Insurance For Employees And Their Dependents

At a special meeting yesterday afternoon the Carmel City Council chose Company B (New York Life) group health insurance plan for city employees and their dependents.

Programs of five companies have been under study for months, the bulk of the work of analysis and presentation falling on Councilman Tom May, Commissioner of Health and Safety, and Arthur Plaxton, assistant city clerk, who is chairman of the employees association.

With $500 deductible, the insurance company pays 80 percent of medical, hospital, and ambulance transportation costs up to $10,000 in case of illness or injury of city employees and their dependents.

The city pays the entire premium which amounts to $100 a month. If the employees wish to lower amount of the deductible or enlarge benefits, they may do so as a group through payroll deduction to pay additional premiums.

The coverage becomes effective March 1.

Arthur Plaxton expressed approval of the plan and thanked the city council on behalf of the employees.

First discussions of a health plan began about two years ago, Plaxton told the Pine Cone this morning. "People talked with Tom May and Tom talked with people. He interested the council, did research, and pushed it to conclusion."

Speaking of the city employees, Plaxton continued. "We have an unusual situation here: unusual staff, men who do their jobs without being policed. There's not a foul ball in the lot, not a friction point. They are worth keeping to-

Carmel Chaparral Poets Sponsor H. S. Poetry Competition

The Carmel Chapter of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets is sponsoring a poetry contest open to all high school students on the Peninsula. In addition to cash prizes for the three best poems submitted, prize winners and those receiving honorable mention will be awarded a year's membership in the Federation's junior division.

Winning poems will be published in the Carmel Pine Cone poetry column.

In announcing the contest Olivia Young, president of Arena Blanca Chapter, said: "We feel that our group should take the initiative in fostering the interest and talent of the younger poet, whose point of view and creative imagination are of such importance to the present and future culture of our society. While this is the first event of its kind that we have undertaken, we hope the response will warrant our making it an annual affair."

High school students who are interested in the contest will find detailed information posted on their bulletin boards, or they may call Arthur Wild, contest chairman, at MAYfair 4-1468.

City Planners Study Gasoline Station, Butterfly Roof

Among five building applications considered by planning commissioners in study session yesterday afternoon, the remodeling of the Richfield station at San Carlos Street and Fifth Avenue, and design of a residence for the owners of Hofsas House motel caused the most discussion.

The Richfield station is one of Carmel's nonconforming-use gas stations. Commissioners consulted the ordinance governing remodeling of such stations and found that remodeling can be done if the cubic content of the building is

The city council will hear an appeal February 29, 8:00 o'clock, against the planning commission's approval of a gas station for the Fenton shopping center parking garage.

The following letters express opposite points of view on the controversial question.

Honorable Councilmen

Re: Accessory Land Use
Gentlemen:

Due to out-of-state absence from February 13 until March 3, 1960, it is hoped that this letter will be received with the same consideration as if the writer appeared before you at the hearing on the above subject.

To identify myself, I am in my twenty-fifth year of continuous residence within the city limits of Carmel-by-the-Sea and I will complete my twenty-fourth year on June 16, 1960 of continuous operation of the same business, which is situated in our city. I am the owner of several parcels of property within the city.

I am 59 years old and during my life, it has been observed that conditions are constantly changing, just as my forefathers found them to be changing. Some of the changes have been distasteful to me, even as changes must have been to some people of other ages. However, I have learned that I can neither stop time nor changes and I have found that it is better for my peace of mind that I made adjustments to the changes as they occur.

I feel a sense of loss in not having the theatre on the corner of Ocean and Mission Streets, with the lumber yard behind. I miss the poppies that used to grow behind my store, where a new building now stands. But, I realize that this is Commercial property and as such, nothing can stop the development of such property so it is well that such development can be accepted by me as a part of the changes that cannot be stopped. It is with this philosophy that the following is being presented to you for your consideration.

Your decisions have been made in the past, and I am sure, will be made in the future, based on the

8 Candidates Contest For 3 Council Seats

Corum Jackson won nearest to deadline filing championship today. He presented his declaration of candidacy for city council five minutes before filing closed at city hall this noon. Patricia Hall, Hartland Law, and incumbent Tom May filed earlier this morning. Yesterday, Frank Putnam, Robert Strum, Michael Franke and Eben Whittlesey. Last week, Francis Whitaker.

James Dixon, who announced his candidacy when filing first opened three weeks ago, has withdrawn "because of the number of good candidates coming forward."

Eight candidates compete for the three vacancies on city council at the April 12 municipal election.

Corum B. Jackson came to Carmel 30 years ago. A realtor, he became associated with the Carmel Realty Company 25 years ago and has been owner of the firm for the past 15 years.

Jackson has been chairman of the Republican Central Committee. For seven years he was president of the Monterey Peninsula Real Estate Board, and following the establishment of the Carmel Real Estate Board, president of this group for two years.

Corum Jackson organized the Carmel Rotary Club. He is a charter member and past president of this organization. For twelve years he was a member of the Monterey County Fair board of directors and Fair president for four years.

He served as chairman of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross for three years.

Mrs. Patricia Hall has lived in Carmel for eight years. She is a property owner who has retired after a varied working career.

Her last job was as a stenographer at Headquarters Special Troops, Court Marshal Section at Fort Ord where she was employed for over four years. In World War I her husband suffered injuries on submarine duty in the Philippines. He was an invalid for eight years before he died. During this time Mrs. Hall was the teacher of a one-room rural school in Texas.

Following her husband's death she moved to San Francisco with her small son and did office work. She was an electrician in shipyards for three and a half years during World War II.

After coming from San Francisco to live here, Mrs. Hall began attending meetings at City Hall. It "grew to be a habit," she declares. The planning commission's work on the master plan claimed her interest, also the city council's handling of various diverse situations.

Patricia Hall, as secretary of the Society for the Preservation and Conservation of Carmel-by-the-Sea, actively participated in securing 1400 signatures protesting the building of more motels.

She has been an active member of the American Legion Auxiliary for 30 years. She is an Episcopalian, a member of the Republican Women's Club, secretary of the Carmel Craft Guild and an associate member of the Carmel Art Association.

She believes in "Government by law and reason; not by hysteria," and believes in more active support for the Forest Commission.

Sponsors: Olof Dahlstrand, Alta R. Jensen, Eva L. Dunbar, Mabel D. Steen, Elsie Banfield Culver, William Culver and DeForest Reichard.

Robert D. Strum, in announcing his candidacy, said, "Today, we are in grave danger of losing our residential character. I should like, most humbly, to adopt the preamble to the zoning ordinance (Carmel is primarily a residential city and commerce is subordinated to its residential character) as the basis of my candidacy."

Strum, who came to live in Carmel in 1958, is a member of the electrical engineering department at the Navy Post Graduate School. He was born in La Crosse, Wisconsin in 1924, received his secondary education in Terre Haute, Indiana, and his B. S. degree in electrical engineering at Rose Polytechnic Institute in 1946, after a three year interlude of military service in the navy as engineering officer on a destroyer. After graduation he was employed as an engineer by General Motors Corporation, engineer in the Public Service Company of Indiana, and member of the electrical engineering department of Rose Polytechnic Institute. During the summers of 1956 and 1957 he took graduate work at Stanford. He and his wife, Ione, have a daughter Sara, born on the Fourth of July, 1958.

He is a member of the Carmel Forestry Commission, and of the Green Belt Committee of Carmel Citizens Committee.

Thomas E. May, Jr., has served on the council since October, 1957 when he was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Francis Whitaker.

May is the first Carmel High School graduate to be a city councilman. He graduated from Carmel High in 1944, four years after he came here to live. His father, Colonel Thomas E. May (USA ret.), now a local resident, brought his family here in 1940 when he was assigned to duty at Fort Ord.

Following graduation, Tom May attended Stanford University and worked his way through college as a campus fireman and electrician, graduating in 1950.

He was a research analyst for the Hoover Institute and Library at Stanford, then became associated with the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company of San Francisco.

He has been a registered voter in Carmel since 1948, and moved here permanently in 1955. He is now a life insurance representative.

Tom May organized the Radiological Safety Service Group, California Disaster Office for the Mon-

PADRE VARSITY CLIPS LIVE OAK 40 TO 34

Carmel High's pennant-bound varsity basketball squad came through in grand style last Friday night at the Padre gym as it rolled to an easy 40-34 win over the dangerous Live Oak quintet. While the well-knit varsity crew was fashioning its seventh league victory, Carmel's unorganized lightweight aggregation received for its eighth straight loss in league play. The Little Acorns had too much court savvy for Coach Hadley Hicks' crew and finished with a 31-23 margin. Carmel's powerful junior-varsity team continued its winning ways with a lopsided 41-19 decision over the Live Oak reserves. Coach Lawitzke's squad ran its intricate play patterns with smooth precision and the defensive teamwork was reminiscent of a good varsity ball club.

Chris Wilkin, better known for rebounding than for his scoring ability, topped the Padre point-getters as he found the range for 14 markers. The 6-4 forward turned in his best performance of the current season, blocking several Live Oak shots which were headed for apparent scores. The smooth lefthander also did a good job on the boards, collecting 12 rebounds for his night's work. Toby Edson put 10 points on the board for the Padres while Russ Wise chipped in with 7 and John Wilkin hit for 5. Fine team play by Mike Draper, Dave Fuller, and Fred Bucher made the Padre offense move against the Live Oak zone defense and set up easy shots for the tall men in the front line. Live Oak dropped behind 12-5 in the first quarter and couldn't rally enough to offer a serious threat to the Carmel lead.

Teddy Leidig pumped through 6 points to lead the Little Padres in their losing effort against the Little Acorns. The scrappy little sophomore is the most improved player on the lightweight squad and should be back for more lightweight action next season. Jim Miles, Steve Fairfield, Frank Bucher, and John Odello turned in good individual performances but the team play wasn't up to that exhibited by the Live Oak lads.

Mike Dunham, Jim Brown, and Bob Little all hit in double figures to lead the junior-varsity scoring parade against the outmanned Live Oak reserves. Dunham pumped through 13 points to take individual scoring honors while Little and Brown meshed five field goals apiece. The first quarter of this one was more like a baseball score as the Carmel squad edged in front 7-3. However, in the second heat, there was a little improvement with Carmel taking a 16-7 half-time lead. In the second half, the Padres found their shooting eyes and poured through 25 points to finish in front, 41-19.

Triple-header action for the Padres again tomorrow night when they travel to King City for a showdown battle with the runner-up Mustang aggregation. Jayvee preliminary at 5:30, lightweights at 7:00, and varsity action at 8:20.

CARMEL HOOP SQUAD AT KING CITY FRIDAY NIGHT

Needing one victory to wrap up the league title, Carmel High's varsity basketball squad takes on the in-and-out King City Mustangs tomorrow night at the Mustang gym. In first-half play, King City upset the Padres to hand them their only loss in league competition. However, since beating Carmel, the Mustangs ran into tough competition at Live Oak and Pacific Grove and are now two games off the pace. Pacific Grove still has a mathematical chance for a share of the crown, but the Breakers have to get over San Lorenzo and Carmel before they have a chance.

Coach Dan Yurkovich's well-conditioned ten-man squad is in good shape for tomorrow night's crucial contest and figures to reverse the first-half defeat administered by the Mustangs. Starting the action for the Padres will be Mike Draper, Dave Fuller, Chris Wilkin, Toby Edson, and Russ Wise. Ready to back up the starters are Fred Bucher, Al Dahlstrand, John Wilkin, Pat Boyle, and Doyle Clayton. Preliminary skirmishes at King City matches the Padre jayvees (Continued on Page Fifteen)

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

With the battle of elections just beginning to stir us to thinking, we have two more books which may be helpful. James MacGregor Burns has done a biography of John Kennedy, and Paul Wellman has performed the same service for Stuart Symington. These are well written, factual studies of two presidential possibilities. Surely a good basis from which to start making a firm conviction is the reading of an impartial book on the man and his background. Here you have two such books.

How Green Was My Valley is probably the best known and best loved of all the good books written by Richard Llewellyn. He now has a sequel which is entitled Up, Into the Singing Mountain. This is the story of Huw Morgan who emigrated to Patagonia, to live there in a Welsh community and pursue his trade of cabinetmaking. The lyric quality and the Welsh twist of phrase are here, just as they were in the earlier book. Good reading.

A two volume biography of Stonewall Jackson was written by Lenoir Chambers. The Kirbus review tells us, "From this lengthy, accurate and finely written objective biography... Jackson himself emerges, with his blazing military genius, his fanatical belief in duty... his personal idiosyncracies and his unswerving conviction that God was always on his side." Now there was a man!

From the question, "Do we know what we are doing?" the Saturday Evening Post published a series of 21 answers by 21 living authorities, and then compiled the answers into a book entitled Adventures of the Mind. The names of these authorities are those of the famous thinkers and performers of this day. Their answers may set the rest of us to thinking.

A new concept of mythology as a science based upon archeology, psychology, and anthropology is the theory basic to the book The Masks of God by Joseph Campbell.

Readers interested in the stories of wealthy Americans who married into the foreign nobility should borrow Heiresses and Coronets by Elizabeth Eliot. Beginning about 1870 and continuing well into the present century, this is source material on who married whom, why, and for how long.

Included among the new novels are four good mysteries. And there is much more non-fiction, of course. Come check the lists, and borrow the ones which look good to you. And remember to bring along your library card.

MITCHELL IN ATLANTIC CITY

Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell has been in Atlantic City this week attending meetings of the American Association of School Administrators. He will be back in his office on Tuesday.

Hazleton - Price Organ Recital Free To Public

Tom Hazleton of Pacific Grove and Dale Price of San Jose will perform in a joint Allen organ recital on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock at the U.S.O. Auditorium in Monterey.

Mr. Hazleton has been organist at St. Mary's Episcopal Church and was the organist at the Carmel Presbyterian Church when President Eisenhower visited the Peninsula. His program will include the Toccata and Fugue in D minor, Bach; Ballade in D, Clokey; Jig Fugue in C, Buxtehude; Adagio, Sowerby; Carnival Suite, Crandall; Piece Heroique, Franck.

Dale Price, formerly staff organist of C. B. S., Hollywood, will play a program of theatre and popular arrangements. He is also the recent producer of the Twentieth Century Folk Mass and under contract to Golden Gate Records. His program will include his own arrangement of Cole Porter, George Gershwin, Erroll Garner, and the Gay 90's.

The program is open to the public free of charge.

Special Kids Show At Golden Bough On George Day

The Golden Bough Theatre will have a special Washington's Birthday Party for Carmel children. The new policy of the theatre is to run special shows for young folk on special occasions. The party on Monday starts at 2:00 o'clock.

Cartoons will be shown on the program, two hours of Walt Disney. There will be a true life adventure movie and a stage show.

Ventriloquist Barry Jordan and his little wooden friend Moey will perform in the stage show part of the program, also Perry the Great, a sensational escape artist. There will be door prizes and free candy. All seats will cost 50c.

EWIG RECEIVES NEW POST

Edwin H. Ewig has been appointed vice president and manager of Crocker-Anglo National Bank's future Pebble Beach office. The new bank unit will open in April and will be the fifth Crocker-Anglo branch on the Peninsula.

Mr. Ewig became a director of the Bank of Carmel in 1942. Seven years later he joined the staff as a vice president and director. When this bank merged with Crocker-Anglo, Mr. Ewig was appointed a vice president at the Carmel office and a member of the bank's Carmel advisory board.

terey Bay Counties.

As a councilman, he has demonstrated his interest in planning by attending many of the planning commission meetings since his appointment. He has served on the council as commissioner of health and safety and as council representative to the area planning commission.

Mr. May has also while a council member been a director of the Monterey Peninsula Garbage and Refuse Disposal District. He is an officer of the Monterey County Sportsmen's Association.

"At least one incumbent should be available since we generally feel that hold-over experience is vital in good government. My entry is simply to offer public service and that experience," May said this morning.

"Change is unceasing and nothing is final. By careful choice we can have a new council with both vigor and imagination in order to deal with new challenges which keep right on coming," he added.

Former planning commission chairman Frank Putnam has been a partner with Mark Raggett in the Ocean Avenue drygoods store, Putnam and Raggett, since 1946.

"Several groups of people whom I highly respect have asked me to run for the council, including the board of directors of the Rotary Club," say Mr. Putnam.

"As a member of Rotary, I believe in the club's motto 'Service Above Self.' I am deeply interested in my community. After talking with my wife, my partner and my doctor, I have decided to run."

Putnam resigned as chairman of the planning commission two years ago on doctor's orders. "I have been completely well for a year and look forward to continued good health," he says, referring to his resignation.

The future of Carmel, Putnam commented, rests with "the fighting spirit of the citizens who know and love it as Carmel."

He is in agreement with the master plan as it is now being currently discussed, but not in accord with the Livingston plan which proposed "regimentation of the town into something other than what it is." He believes, however, that the Livingston plan focussed attention of the citizens on planning for Carmel and aroused them to action. He said he is in accordance with the planning commission and their stands on the Fenton Plaza parking garage development.

Frank Putnam came to live here 20 years ago when he was stationed with the Eleventh Cavalry at the Presidio. He was released from active army duty on January 18, 1946. The same day he and Mark Raggett bought Meagher and Company and changed the name of the firm to Putnam and Raggett.

During the years Frank Putnam has been in business here he has been chairman of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross, served as junior warden at All Saints' Episcopal Church and been a vestryman for 11 years. He is the incoming president of the Carmel Rotary Club, assuming office on July 1, 1960; is vice chairman of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department; and has been first vice commander of the American Legion Post. He has also been chairman of the Family Service Agency of the Community Chest.

He and his wife Frances were married in 1937, the same year as he graduated from the University of Arizona and have three children, Reed, Anne (Mrs. Thomas Russell Conklin) and Jane. He served overseas during World War II with the Eleventh Cavalry as a general staff officer from "Metz to the Brenner Pass."

Putnam left yesterday to attend the Rotary district conference in Fresno and will not return to Carmel until Tuesday.

Putnam's sponsors: Clarence Ridley, Donald Craig, Jean Chitwood, Clarence Bates, Sidney Dibble, Geraldine Smith, Dr. W. F. Coughlin, Dorothy Chapman, Ted Fehring, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

Hartland Law is an architectural draftsman, 50 years old, who first came here in 1923. His parents, who resided in San Francisco, had a summer home in Pebble Beach. Mr. Law attended Hotchkiss School and Yale University, where he majored in architecture. He returned to the Peninsula for vacations during these years.

In 1935 he entered the Navy and served for six years as an aviator. In 1940 he became a Pan-American master pilot flying the Pacific to Honolulu, later from Miami, Florida, to Rio de Janeiro. During World War II Mr. Law was attached to the Air Transport Command and flew freight to India and Africa, bringing back wounded men.

In 1945 he returned to the Peninsula, and lived in Pebble Beach until 1949 when he purchased a home at Casanova Street and Thirteenth Avenue. He is married and has one daughter, Diana, a San Francisco debutante this season. He has been chairman of the disaster committee of the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross and also treasurer of the local Red Cross organization. He is a member of the Old Capital Club.

Mr. Law states that he is running for the council because he wants "the preservation of what he has always liked about Carmel, its natural beauty and residential character."

He thinks planning is necessary in view of future pressure of population increase here. This planning should be directed and controlled. He deplores the abandonment of the first Fenton Plaza development plans which resulted in "something less attractive."

Trees in Carmel should be preserved, but diseased and old trees taken out, Law said. He is against parking meters.

Sponsors for Law are: Speirs Ruskell, Clarissa Mitchell, Fritz T. Wurzmahn, Milan Herben, John J. Alexander, Laurence B. Barretto, David Kupfer, Roberta F. Mastin, and Patricia J. Trevvett.

Sponsors for citizens who announced their candidacy in February 4 and 11 issue of the Pine Cone.

Quartetto Di Roma Enjoyable For Singing Tone In Carmel Music Society Concert Here Thursday, February 11

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

Piano quartets are a very happy combination of instruments for the concert stage. They are more intelligible to the casual concert-goer than the string quartet or trio, and they bring a richness to chamber music which is very satisfying. The Music Society's choice of the Quartetto Di Roma with Arrigo Pelliccia, violin; Bruno Giuranna, cello; Massimo Santoliquido at the piano, proved a happy one. I have rarely heard a better-balanced, more thoroughly cohesive group of musicians. One who is particularly sensitive to schools of musical interpretation and prefers to hear German composers interpreted in the style of playing more characteristic of German musicians might have felt the interpretations to be too full of that singing quality so natural to the Italian artist. To my mind the readings of Mozart and Brahms showed great fidelity to musical tradition as well as superb technique.

The Mozart quartet in G Minor, K. 478 opened the concert. A warm, legato style, winning, rather than astringent, characterized the first movement. The pianist's touch was just right for this sort of ensemble. She achieved an effect of sustaining without seeming to use the pedal. Tonal quality of the viola was particularly lovely in this movement.

The second movement was musing, ethereal, almost luminous. There were times when one might have asked for a slightly more pungent attack by the piano.

Dvorak's Quartet in E Flat Major, Op. 87, brought the audience a full share of romanticism and melody. The music is lyric and full throated, giving the violin a fine lead. The second movement establishes a mood of musing fantasy and has many satisfying solo passages.

The third movement, allegro ma non troppo, was played with refinement and color, but is musically rather dull. The spirited and lyric finale was made the most of. If my attention wandered, it was due to the music and no fault of the excellent performance.

After the intermission, Brahms' Quartet in A Major, Op. 26 was quite another story. Often the first movements of Brahms concerti and chamber works are difficult to understand until you are fully conversant with the music. But I have never heard a more coherent interpretation than was given by these musicians. There was a fine sonority with no loss of sharp delineation. There was freedom and power, together with great lyric charm. In the third movement the handling of detail was especially pleasing, while the sweeping climax of the section was most effective. The fourth movement rose to a ringing finale calling forth impressive power in the ensemble. This was Brahms at its best, rich and colorful, compelling and vital.

Enthusiastic applause evoked a Von Weber Minuetto as an encore. It may be hoped this fine ensemble will come our way again.

Vasia Anikeef

Vasia V. Anikeef, former opera and Russian folksong singer, was found dead Saturday evening in his home at Ronda and Cresta Roads in Carmel Valley. He had been in failing health for some years.

Mr. Anikeef was born in Leonova, near Moscow, on February 13, 1890. He came to the United States when he was 16 years old and worked in lumber mills and elsewhere while preparing for a musical career. An audition with Chaliapin resulted in a lifelong friendship for the two singers.

During World War I, Vasia Anikeef worked as a Russian translator in the postal censorship department. He came to Carmel in the early 1920's but left to study voice in Italy and Germany. A basso profundo, he became recognized as one of the greatest of Russian folksong and liturgical singers. He also toured with a professional opera company until the depression caused the group to disband during the early 1930s.

Then Vasia Anikeef for several years, in addition to concerts, gave voice lessons here and in Palo-Alto.

A serious throat ailment caused him to relinquish his professional career. He lived with the Martin Flavin family in Carmel Highlands until they sold this home in 1942. From then until 1952, Vasia Anikeef lived at the Flavin ranch in the Cachagua. He was employed at Los Laureles Lodge until failing health forced him to retire two years ago.

He is survived by a son, Lyman Gaylord of New York.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Music On The Peninsula

By MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The first concert of this season's Carmel Chamber Music Society's Series was presented on Sunday at the Woman's Club. The offering was one of specially interesting historical compositions performed by capable local artists. These were, besides Director Gilbert Boyer, Fidel Sevilla, violist; duo pianists Dorothy Heer and Naidene Stengel, and Norma Jean Scott, soprano.

The concert opened with an intentional comparison. A Bach Allegro from Sonata 4 and a Sonata by Eccles of the same period. Sevilla and Boyer played them with fluency. While the Bach Allegro called for more balance of parts than the Eccles Sonata, the piano somewhat drowned the mellow tones of the viola. However, there is a difference between a Sonata written for equal parts and one for viola and clavier, where the viola takes first place. This gave the violist more freedom to express as he did, though acoustics are always to be reckoned with, and those at the Woman's Club House do not help the best effects from the high stage. The sound is more pleasing when the orchestra is placed in the auditorium and the chairs arranged in a circle. After all, the sounds are more important than much sight! It was an interesting opportunity for a comparison of two baroque composers whose forms and harmony were very similar.

An Elizabethan Suite arranged by Barlett, performed by Heer and Stengel, well brought out the several characteristics of seven short pieces by British composers of more than a hundred years before Bach that included Byrd, Pearson and John Bull's gay tunes. These interesting duo players also brilliantly completed the whole program with a Clementi Sonata and Schumann Andante with Variations, bringing dates up to 1856 which were further progressed to 1937 in the group of songs by Ravel, sung artistically by Norma Jean Scott and accompanied with sympathy by Gilbert Boyer. Scott's singing has advanced in tone and expression since last heard. Ravel's five French songs were free from his usual dissonance in tonal construction. It is reported that Ravel was greatly influenced in his song compositions by the early baroque writers, which possibly modified his general dissonant tendency. The next Chamber Concert is anticipated with interest.

Monterey Peninsula Community Theatre Membership Offered

The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula was officially launched at a meeting held earlier this month at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. Francis Heisler, chairman of the steering committee which has been drawing up plans for the new organization, presented a slate of proposals which were accepted unanimously by the group of more than fifty persons who attended.

Heisler was assisted in his presentation by Charles Page, Monterey attorney who is serving as vice-chairman, Fritz Wurzmahn, head of the membership committee, and Frederick Rider, Circle Theatre director.

The avowed goal of the new group is to enlist both the active and financial support of enough members so that, by July 1 of this year, they will be in a position to lease the Circle Theatre from its present management and operate it as a non-profit community theatre. To prepare themselves for this responsibility, members will assist the Circle staff in producing and promoting the plays presented there between now and July. Structure of the organization has been modeled on that of innumerable civic groups throughout the country and includes committees specializing in play production, play selection, hospitality, public relations, finance, building and grounds. A major project will be the founding of a theatre school, to offer dramatic training to both children and adults.

Details of the membership drive which is to begin immediately were approved at an executive committee meeting held at the home of Barney Laiolo, treasurer, on Monday evening. Membership pledges are now being sought, in amounts ranging from $2.50 for student members, $5.00 for active and $10 for contributing members, through $25.00 and $100.00 for supporting members and patrons. Each class of membership entitles the holder to a specified number of admissions to the Circle Theatre in addition to voting rights in the organization. Inquiries and subscriptions should be addressed to P. O. Box 2686, Carmel.

My Lady Darrell At First Theatre Example Of Black-and-White World Of Victorian Age Of Certainty

By JOHN UPTON

California's historic First Theatre was bulging Monday night, when the seasoned Troupers of the Gold Coast dealt meticulously with an 80-year old melodrama before an audience of enthusiastic out-of-towners.

First Theatre players, under the direction of David Eldridge, are perhaps unique in their determination to present Victorian drama as a highly artificial art form, totally divorced from modern theatre with its attempt to reproduce a segment from the lives of actual human beings.

My Lady Darrell or A Strange Marriage is a prime example of the black-and-white world of the Age of Certainty, when probity, chastity, and good breeding were the unquestioned keys to triumph and success. It is a splendid vehicle for Eldridge's veteran players, who know how to make the most of the retort discourteous and the outraged gesture.

Briefly, the plot revolves about a farm girl of murky antecedents who witnesses a murder involving members of the local aristocracy, consents to marry the alleged perpetrator so that she may not be forced to testify against him, and suffers long and courageously through complex machinations to learn at last of her own high lineage and win the love of her titular husband.

Anne Fry made her debut at the First Theatre last weekend as the harassed ingenue, and a convincing one she is, too. Her downcast eyes will wring your heart, and her outbursts of proud defiance will make you resolve to be a better man. Don Fox plays across from her in the role of Lord Roy Darrell, the troubled young nobleman who gradually realizes the great worth and beauty of his rural Cinderella. It is a part that is difficult to do without insipidity, but Fox comes through in fine style.

Of the other performers, two are outstanding: Madeleine Hicks as the virago Martha Paisey, and Barbara Ziegweid as the hypocritical Viola Vaughn. Mrs. Hicks roars onto the stage and lashes everyone within reach in a wonderful way. Oh, how we hated her. Hers is a consummate portrayal of the woman who unequivocally equates virtue and hard work. Mrs. Ziegweid, on the other hand, makes the most of her undoubted charms to show us the fate that befalls those who view virtue in a rather more relative way. How we loved her. And very pretty, too.

Bob Boone is the villain, the unspeakable Count Jura, the unctuous monster whose mere appearance downstage casts a pall over the audience. Hissing is encouraged at the First Theatre, and Boone was greeted by a veritable snake pit every time he showed his face Monday night. How he must hate himself.

Two Troupers are playing dual roles in the current production, which must save a little valuable space behind the First Theatre's minute stage. Betty Fowlston appears in two highly contrasted parts: first as the blue-blooded Dowager Lady Darrell, complete with a gigantic fan, and toward the end of the fracas as the savage Kate Cripps. Her transformation is marvelous to behold. Len Will is seen in the thankless role of murderess in the first act, when he spends most of one scene prone on the pine needles, and again as one of Mother Cripps' despicable henchmen at the windup. His metamorphosis is less startling than Mrs. Fowlston's, because he is killed before we get a really good look at him. He makes an admirable scoundrel, though.

Mrs. Fowlston will occasionally be replaced in this double role by Gertrude Chappell, it was announced.

Derek Lawford plays the straight and rather unrewarding part of Sir Geoffrey Rawdon in a no-nonsense kind of way, as does Robert L. McIntyre with the play's amicus curiae, Armstrong Dale.

Mother Cripps, the unscrupulous beldam who directs a gang of cutthroats and footpads, would have delighted the heart of Charles Dickens. Laverne Seeman was so malignant in the role that she delighted ours.

As the henpecked Joseph Paisey, Jack Kidwell is the only actor to add a touch of burlesque to an otherwise straight-faced production. His rustic spoofing with Al Olinger as the hired man, Job Trotters, in the first scene is straight from the baggy pants tradition.

Police Sergeant Dalton is manfully portrayed by Robert J. McIntyre. He is the only stage cop I have ever seen who seemed to be on the point of wringing his hands at the mention of murder.

In view of the postage-stamp stage, Al Olinger's sets are almost a miracle of inventiveness. His recreation of a Victorian interior, cluttered and yet giving the illusion of space, is pleasant to the eye and eminently workable.

The traditional olio follows the main performance, with Alex Olivetti acting as master of ceremonies as well as taking part in the clowning. The entire cast, with the help of Shyla Sellards and Frank Treat, joins in songs, dances and general high-spirited nonsense. Parts of the olio are a visual joy, thanks to the imaginative costumes by Rhoda Johnson.

My Lady Darrell is produced and managed by Charles Thomas. Other staff members are: Susan Lee at the piano; Madeleine Hicks, costumes assistant; Kay Knudsen, lighting; Rosie Beales, properties; and Joyce Olinger, tickets and publicity. Curator is Vera Stewart.

Monday night's performance was a special one for a large group of convention visitors. Hereafter My Lady Darrell will be presented Fridays and Saturdays only at 8:30 o'clock.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OF BIDS

The Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District hereby invites sealed proposals or bids for the construction of additions to the Sewage Treatment Plant.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and approved by said Sanitary Board on February 8, 1960, on file in the office of the Secretary of the Sanitary Board of said District and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done and for further particulars.

Payment will be made in cash by said District to the Contractor on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer and the Sanitary Board of said District, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor, but said District shall retain ten percent (10%) of the amount of each such estimate, and the accumulation of said amounts so retained from said progressive payments will be paid to said contractor thirty-five days after the completion and acceptance of said work by said District Engineer and said Sanitary Board.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's God-given ability to think and act rightly will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" will include these verses from Proverbs (16:1, 3): "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord... Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established."

Correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God" (258:21).

The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2): "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God."

New Girl Scout Officers

New Carmel Girl Scout officers met for the first time on Tuesday last week. The Girl Scout program in Carmel is in its thirty-sixth year. Between 200 and 300 girls are enrolled in 15 troops. Ten of these meet weekly in the Girl Scout House which has recently been remodeled with money earned from rentals and rummage sales. The other five troops use the Scout House for special programs.

The Girl Scout Carmel Village Service Team for the coming year will consist of Mrs. William Adams, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Margaret Johnson, assistant neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Louis Abbott, house chairman and consultant; Mrs. Robert B. Rendrick, troop organizer; Mrs. Ariel Lane, troop consultant. These women are all leaders or assistant leaders, too.

Mrs. Charles N. Pearson and Mrs. Anita Edwards are now working with the cookie sale committee; Mrs. R. J. Wallace is assisting with International Festival plans. New troop leaders are Mrs. Marjiam Osheroff, Mrs. Jack Bruce and Mrs. Emilio Odello.

Troop leaders during the past year have been Mrs. John Lowries, Mrs. Francis Jacoby, Mrs. Charles Felder, Mrs. John L. Lawler, Mrs. James H. Cullen, Mrs. Loyal T. Wickhorst, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Charles Dawson, Mrs. Mary Moraz, Mrs. Dale Leidig, Mrs. William H. Rich, Mrs. John A. Jepson, Mrs. Jean Mecias, Mrs. Donald Berry and Mrs. C. J. Mast.

Retiring officers are Mrs. Arthur Black, Mrs. Ernest K. Gatchombe and Mrs. Eben Whittlesey. Other Girl Scout workers who have retired are Mrs. George Thaler, Mrs. George Hudson and Mrs. Allan Hudson.

When the Girl Scout House is not in use by Carmel girls or visiting troops it is available for rental. Mrs. Frederick E. Rainer, corresponding secretary and keeper of the house calendar, will furnish rental information. Her telephone number is MA 4-7565.

San Luis Obispo Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ridd of San Luis Obispo were Carmel visitors this week. Mr. Ridd has retired after 30 years Navy service. He was a chief storekeeper and taught naval science at Harvard University for four years. He now manages a motel in San Luis Obispo.

Nancy Penoyer On Dean's List

Excellence in scholarship has placed Nancy Penoyer's name on the Dean's List at Marymount College in Los Angeles. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Penoyer of Rancho Rio Vista.

Nancy, a sophomore, plans a career in the theater. She is a member of Drama Club, English Club and was on the executive student committee for the move of Marymount to a new location at Palos Verdes Estates. She will also plan student activities at the new campus.

Recently, Nancy took part in the college production of the musicale Carousal and has a leading role in the Grix Christopher Players' presentation of The Reluctant Debutante.

Oil Paintings Win At Studios

Friday afternoon public voting selected an oil landscape by Jessie James of Carmel as winner of the weekly Craft Studios art show.

Mrs. Jane Hoffman of Carmel won second place with an oil marine.

John Thompson Studies In Spain

Among 64 American students attending Madrid University for nine months is John Thompson of Carmel. He is studying Spanish language, literature, history and civilization, fine arts, music and geography under New York University's Junior Year In Spain Program. Previously, John was a student at San Francisco State College.

Local Poets Meet

At the February 10 meeting of the Arena Blanca chapter of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets in the Church of the Wayfarer, The Reverend J. H. Toni Hamilton Engaged

Before leaving to occupy her Squaw Valley home during the Winter Olympics, Mrs. Jean O'Brien Geisen of Carmel announced the engagement of her older daughter, Joan (Toni) O'Brien Hamilton, to Ensign Robert William Haire, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Haire of Selma. They plan to be married in August.

Toni is a graduate of Carmel High School. In June she will graduate from the University of California where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and president of the Community Service Council. She has a sister, Heather, who is studying in Switzerland, and a half-brother, Donel Geisen, a Sunset School student who is acting as a messenger during the Olympic Games. Her father is Fred B. Hamilton of Los Angeles. The late Mrs. Howard Vincent O'Brien of Carmel was Toni's grandmother.

Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of California where he was affiliated with Chi Psi fraternity. He recently completed Naval Officers Training School at Yorktown, Virginia, and is now stationed at San Pedro. Mrs. David L. Burris of Kingsbury is his sister. His grandmother was the late Mrs. Lily S. Priest of Santa Cruz.

Toni is planning to join her mother and Donel at Squaw Valley for part of the Olympic Games, despite a broken ankle suffered recently while skiing between semesters.

Una Jeffers Has A Party

Una Jeffers had her eighth birthday in December but chicken pox, then flu, prevented her from having a party until St. Valentine's Day approached. On Saturday her party guests were Penny and Debbie Smith, Betty Haak, Donna Manning and Susie Vial.

Mrs. Donnan Jeffers, Una's mother, had dressed Valentine dolls for favors. They marked the guests' places at the table and a Valentine cake and cookies were served.

Three Generation Ski Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James Tyson left yesterday by jet plane for New York. They will meet their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoppin of Norwalk, Connecticut, their grandchildren, Jennie Ann, five, and William, ten, and their son, David Tyson, a senior at Riverdale School, New York, and take them all on a ten-day skiing and skating holiday at Lake Placid, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson plan to be back in their Carmel home on March 8.

Return To Puerto Vallarta

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dienelt will return next week to their home in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. Mrs. Dienelt has been here for a month and was joined two weeks ago by her husband, owner of the Mission Ranch.

Dollars For Scholars

Mrs. J. E. McEldowney of Carmel, president of the Monterey American Association of University Women, has announced committees for the annual Dollars for Scholars sale, to be held February 19 from 9:00 to 4:00 o'clock at the USO in Monterey.

Proceeds from the sale are used by AAUW as study grants and fellowships for graduate women scholars. This year's general chairman of the sale are Mrs. L. E. Harriman Graham and Miss Renee Dore.

Carmel women assisting are: Mrs. Douglas Graham and Mrs. Douglas Martz, cashiers; Miss Florence Waller, book chairman; Mrs. Everett Bibb, hats and accessories chairman; Mrs. Charles Dawson, Mrs. Charles Felder, Miss Eleanor Henry, Mrs. Roderick Holmgren, Mrs. Dorothy Mills, Mrs. George Purvis, Miss Marjorie Ribbel, Mrs. Hugh E. Smith, Mrs. Robert Strum, sorting, with Mrs. Richard Roberts, chairman.

Miss Hettie A. Withey is storage chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ted Durein. Also working on the sale are: Mrs. Ralph Lowry, pricing; Mrs. M. G. Brislawn, Miss Philippine Crecelius, Miss Kate M. Firmin, Miss Clair Kennedy, Miss Lucy Mills, Miss Maude Hook, Mrs. A. Roy Myers, books; Miss Lila Adams, shoes; Mrs. Philip Arnold, Mrs. A. J. Hart, men's clothing; Mrs. M. L. Blevens, Mrs.

David Abel Married

Carmel friends of violinist David Abel have received announcements telling of his marriage on February 5 to Marilyn Millette Watson.

David has been Monterey County Symphony soloist on two occasions. His home is in San Francisco when he is not on national concert tours. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Abel. Mr. Abel is manager of the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rufus Millette.

Rissels Add Son To Family

Pebble Beach postmaster William J. Rissel and Mrs. Rissel are parents of a son and second child born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on February 13. They have named him William Emile. His birth weight was eight pounds, 15 ounces.

He has a sister, Dena, 17 months old. Mrs. Emile Rissel of Pebble Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith of Carmel are his grandparents.

Hear Son With Philharmonic

Mr. and Mrs. John Browning Sr. of Los Angeles left on Tuesday after a visit here as the guests of Mrs. Charles Trumbly. On Sunday they were, perhaps, the most interested listeners to the New York Philharmonic Orchestra broadcast when their son, John, was guest piano soloist under the direction of Leonard Bernstein. He played a Mozart concerto and Ravel's concerto for the left hand.

John Browning became a friend of Mrs. Trumbly's when he was stationed at Fort Ord. He gave several local concerts during this time.

Sur Mission Benefit

The Santa Monica Circle of All Saints' Episcopal Church announces a bridge luncheon for the benefit of Santa Lucia Mission at Big Sur, February 26, 12:30 noon, at All Saints' Parish Hall at Lincoln and ninth Streets. Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, chairman of the circle will be assisted by Mrs. Philip Preble and Mrs. Jessie Craine.

P. T. A. TO HEAR OF YOUTH CENTER PROGRAM

Representatives of the Carmel Youth Center will review the 'Center's' history and program for the High School P.T.A. at a general meeting, February 25. Students, as well as parents, are invited to attend to learn more about the activities and goals of this organization. Youth Center directors will be present. The meeting will be in the High School Cafeteria at 7:45 o'clock.

Marasco Family New Residents

Joseph Marasco D. V. M., his wife, Doris, and their three children, Matt, five, Valerie, three and a half, and Julie, two years old, have come here to live.

Dr. Marasco has opened the Carmel Veterinary Medical Clinic at Fifth and Junipero. He is a graduate of the University of California School of Veterinary Medicine at Davis and served in the Naval Air Service during World War II. Before coming to Carmel he practiced veterinary medicine in the Bay area and most recently in Los Altos. He is a member of the California Veterinary Medical Association and the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Marasco's hobbies are oil painting, photography and sports.

Holiday Skiers At Yosemite

Lincoln's and Washington's birthday holidays mean skiing to Carmel High School students. Last weekend 50 took advantage of the long Lincoln Birthday weekend to ski at Yosemite. Principal Warren Edwards and his family and business instructor Lloyd Miller with his children were also on the Yosemite slopes.

This weekend a large group of students are planning to ski at Yosemite over the long Washington's Birthday holiday.

Dr. Whit Morton Visits Carmel

Dr. N. W. Morton, defense research member of the Canadian Joint Staff in Washington, D. C., visited Carmel friends recently. He was here to observe progress made in the past two years by the Army Combat Development Experimentation Center project at Fort Ord and also to visit the Human Research Institute at the Presidio.

Dr. Morton, formerly associated with the psychology department of McGill University in Montreal, has been working for the National Defense Department of the Canadian government since World War II. He will be a member of the Canadian Joint Staff in Washington for the next three years and plans to return here several times during this period. He first visited the CDEC project at Fort Ord two years ago to observe the work of this unit in relation to similar projects of the Canadian government.

Twins For The Tufts

Mr. and Mrs. Bronson B. Tufts have twin sons, their first children, born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on February 14, St. Valentine's Day. They have named them Bruce and Dard.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Von Mengerhausen of Glendale, Missouri, and Mrs. Lillian V. Tufts of Carmel are the twins' grandparents.

Lincoln Day Precinct Tea

Forty Republican precinct captains and workers met last week for a Lincoln Day Precinct Workers Tea at the home of Mrs. J. Ralph Hammonds in Pebble Beach.

James Leach of Salinas, precinct chairman of the Monterey County Republican Central Committee, discussed precinct work. Among those present were Mrs. Haldane Fisher, precinct chairman of the Carmel Republican Women's Club and Mrs. Mark Thomas, Carmel Republican Women's Club president.

Dorothea Carter

Mrs. Dorothea Carter died on Tuesday in a local hospital following long illness. She came here to live in 1948 from Seattle, Washington. Her home was in Hatton Fields at Taylor and Mesa Drives.

Mrs. Carter was an active member of the Church of the Wayfarer, particularly interested in the National Youth Congress. She was superintendent of the Wayfarer junior high Sunday school for many years and on the church's executive board of religious education.

She is survived by her husband, Floyd O. Carter; her mother, Mrs. Harry Chapman of Carmel; a sister, Mrs. Logan E. Jackson of Long Beach; and a brother, Howard Chapman of Carmel.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Church of the Wayfarer with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating, assisted by Dr. E. Leigh Mudge and Dr. Carleton Whitehead. Private interment will be in El Carmelo Cemetery.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Carter may do so in the form of contributions to the Church of the Wayfarer Youth Congress Fund.

Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Public Invited To Dr. Spiegelberg's Talk On South Asia

A talk on the Civilizations of South Asia will be presented by Dr. Frederic Spiegelberg before the World Affairs Council tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Carmel High School Cafeteria.

The meeting, which is open to the public, was arranged by Thomas Barrows of Carmel.

Dr. Frederic Spiegelberg is now Associate Professor of Indian Civilization at Stanford University. A native of Hamburg, Germany, he received the degrees of S. T. M. and Ph. D. from the University of Tugingen, Germany, and taught at Dresden as well as Columbia University, Union Theological Seminary, The Pacific School of Religion, and the University of California.

In addition to his teaching experience, he has traveled extensively in India, and has published two books, The Religion of No Religion, and Spiritual practices of India. He is presently writing a book on comparative religions.

Adah Fuller

Mrs. Adah Mary Fuller, an artist who had lived in Carmel for 24 years, died this morning in a local rest home after a long illness. She was born in Kingstown, England.

Survivors are a brother, J. H. Alen of Arcadia, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Calvucci of London, England.

Funeral services, conducted by the Reverend Peter Farmer, assistant rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, will be held on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

ABOUT THIS SALE: It's nothing to shy away from unless you are extremely reserved by nature or naturally suspicious of sales. For this we have no remedy; nor can we offer any claims to lure you into the shop—except that mundane one (which is only a fact): the merchandise on sale is healthy and of good quality—the kind you find here everyday—but during the rest of this month it is on sale at prices considerably below the regular prices. We are mercenary as we don't want this merchandise in our inventory come the "Ides of March."

So why be shy or suspicious? We won't even claim you'll want to buy anything once you venture in—However, should you be slightly interested, here's what you'll find:

Pine Needles ...MPVS Fabulous Fiesta

The Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services plan a Springtime Fun Party, The Fabulous Fiesta, to benefit the Carmel Foundation. The affair will be held on April 6 from 2:00 to 8:00 o'clock at the Fairgrounds Hunt Club. It will provide fun, frolic, food, fashions and boutique.

Ticket chairman is Mrs. Stanley Bailey, FR 5-2168. Other chairmen are Miss Peg Bowen, vice chairman; Mrs. B. Y. Harris, decorations; Mrs. George D. Marshall, properties; Mrs. Donald D. Cox, entertainment; Mrs. D. P. Sanford, tea table; Mrs. E. J. Murray, fashions; Mrs. S. Y. Cutler, food; Mrs. M. C. Freitas, mailing; Mrs. Lincoln Noelle, treasurer and driving; Mrs. Carl Hering, posters; Mrs. Perry Boggess, printing; Mrs. Stanley Greeb, secretary; Mrs. R. E. Bixler, publicity.

The boutique will include miniature shops. Chairmen of these are Mrs. Boyd Mewborn, thrift; Mrs. G. S. Henry, green thumb; Mrs. J. M. Crane, sewing and Easter; Mrs. B. M. Doolittle, arts and crafts; Mrs. E. P. McMurtry, treasure; Mrs. J. C. Smith, auction.

PTA Presidents Honored

Corsages were presented to all past presidents of the Carmel Elementary Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting on February 9. Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, first president of the PTA in 1926, was among those present. Other past presidents at the meeting were Mrs. Luis Mayer (1932), Mrs. Howard Clark (1944), Mrs. Mark Raggett (1948), Mrs. Julian von Meier (1950), Mrs. Malcolm Foster (1952), Mrs. Fred Dieffendorf (1953), Mrs. George Purvis (1957) and Mrs. Floyd Harber (1958).

Also present at the meeting were seven life members of the Parent-Teacher Association. These memberships were presented to them in past years for their service to youth in the community. The seven life members were Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell, Sunset School teacher Arthur Hull, Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, Mrs. Julian von Meier, Eugene Harrah, Miss Eleanor Crouch and Mrs. Floyd Harber.

Added to the life membership roster on February 9 was Mrs. Harry Hilbert.

Miss Lindsay-Oliver Moves

Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver last week moved into a home of her own on San Carlos Street at the northeast corner of Thirteenth Avenue. She now has room for her grand piano which has been loaned for the past three years after being shipped here from Washington, D. C. It is one of the last pianos made by Mason and Hamlin before this firm became amalgamated with the Steinway company. She has been urged never to sell it as it cannot be duplicated.

Her new home was built by the late Mr. and Mrs. William Ryder. Miss Lindsay-Oliver finds it fills her requirements as thoroughly as if she had designed it herself. Her name is on the gate and her telephone number is MA 4-8698.

The King City lights hold a win over the Little Padres and that is their only victory of the season. The winless Carmel midges will be going all out to even the score and have some company in the basement. Jayvee starters will be Frank Mayo, Bob Little, Scott Forbes, Mike Dunham, and Jim Brown while the Carmel lights will open with Ted Leidig, Frank Bucher, Steve Fairfield, John Odello and Jim Miles.

CARMEL COACHES ATTEND SANTA MONICA GRID CLINIC

Carmel High football coaches Fred Rainer and Hadley Hicks made the long jaunt to Santa Monica last weekend to sit at the feet of the master coaches who were featured in this year's 'Coach of the Year Football Clinic.' Topping the brilliant staff at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium was Floyd Schwartzwalder, Syracuse University mentor, who was chosen the 1959 Coach of the Year. His Syracuse eleven won the riot-laden Cotton Bowl game on New Year's and was picked as the number one team in the nation. A proponent of hard-nosed football, Schwartzwalder stressed the importance of sound fundamentals and superb condition in fashioning a winning football team. Jim Owens, coach of University of Washington's Rose Bowl winners, and Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma's winning coach, spoke on defensive football while Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State told amusing football stories and extolled the merits of Michigan State as a haven for superior high school gridders from California.

THROUGH THE HOOP

First round pairings for the 13th Annual Carmel Invitational Basketball Tournament slated March 3-4-5 have been made and the result in all games is a foregone conclusion. Monterey and Gonzales open the first day's action in a 4:30 game which should be investigated by the SPCA. Gonzales would have as much chance against the University of California as it has against the powerful Monterey quintet. Gilroy High, defending champions of the tournament, takes on Gustine in the 6:00 o'clock game and this should be a romp for Coach Bob Hagen's classy squad. Since Gilroy and Monterey are in the same bracket the two top teams in the tournament won't have a chance to meet in the Saturday finals. Fremont High of Sunnyside, always a strong contender in the Carmel Tournament, takes on Pacific Grove in the 7:30 fracas and host Carmel tackles Junipero Memorial High of Monterey in the feature game at 9:00 o'clock. Friday night it will be Gilroy against Monterey, Gustine against Gonzales, Carmel with Fremont, and Pacific Grove against Junipero. Strong pleas by Gonzales, Live Oak, and San Lorenzo high schools may find a revamping of the Coast Counties Athletic League into three divisions. A move has been made to add a C-division to the B and A-divisions which are already a part of the CCAL. If this action is approved by the Board of Managers, the B-division would embrace Carmel, Hollister, Gilroy, Pacific Grove, and King City with some of the Catholic Athletic League schools joining up with Gonzales, Live Oak, and San Lorenzo to form the C-division. Monterey Peninsula College's chance for a piece of the Coast JC basketball title went out the window Tuesday night at San Jose where the City College Jaguars whipped Coach Peletta's hardtrying crew, 63 to 54. The Lobos made an early run at the classy Jaguars but were no match for the winners over the long haul. The pesky Jaguars appear to hold a jinx over the Lobos since they stymied Coach George Porter's footballers from enjoying an undefeated season last fall.

Fenton Gas Pumps, Pro And Con

sole consideration as to what is best for the citizens of Carmel, taking into consideration, of course, the desires of the citizens. One of the things that would be "best for Carmel and its citizens" would be the provision for more parking of automobiles of the citizens, both "on-street" and "off-street" parking. Additions to "on-street" parking cannot be obtained. The proposed "off-street" parking in the Carmel Plaza would be a material help in providing "off-street" parking in space not taken off the tax rolls. In consideration for the gain of this most desirable parking space, permission would be granted to have inconspicuous and non-competitive gasoline pumps as accessory use to the parking facility. The term, "non-competitive" is used after giving due consideration to the placement of the pumps as planned. It cannot seem logical that a prospective customer for gasoline would normally patronize such pumps unless other inducements (parking) were offered. The consumer, who needs only gasoline or service station facilities, would not subject himself to the inconvenience of going to the proposed site when other existing facilities are conveniently available and are especially provided for his service station needs.

It is my firm conviction that the best interests of our community will be served by granting permission for the installation of these parking facilities and gasoline pumps as requested by the Carmel Plaza development. I feel that to deny this request would be a serious dis-service to the citizens of our community.

It is with sincerity that this is being submitted for your consideration.

—Robert P. Spencer.

Editor, Pine Cone:

In the present, request of Mr. Fenton to disregard our Zoning Law there seems to be no important difference from his previous proposal which the City Council turned down, except that the present plan does not yet include a big motel. But "give an inch, and they'll take an acre."

1. The Fenton representative seems to have stated that the parking lot was not economically feasible without a garage on the premises—yet he knew in the beginning that this area was "out of bounds" for a garage. Why then did he go ahead and plan for one? Is he just trying to force compliance with his desires by expecting us to change the law instead of his complying with it? And why is it not economically feasible? Can't he afford to pay an attendant for the lot even with two big chain-stores to share in the expense? Or is Mr. Fenton getting a loan from the Oil Co., who will not loan the money unless they get the concession for gas and oil? Why did not the Planning Commission require from him definite facts and figures as to why a 160 car parking space will not be valuable in itself? After all is Carmel obliged to guarantee profit from whatever Mr. Fenton wishes to do with that lot? He has already destroyed for his own profit a good-looking, very useful theatre building and a beautiful little grove of trees. We wish to compliment Mrs. MacGregor for her firmness.

2. If a garage-service station is necessary for the success of the parking area, then why persist in calling it "incidental and accessory?" It is obviously the essential element of his plan, and changing the zoning laws should not even be considered.

3. How does it make it right to allow a garage in a forbidden zone, if only you hide it? That is an incentive to a strange kind of civic conscience!

4. With plenty of garages and service stations within a block or two, there can be no possible excuse that the patrons need a garage in that parking area. The argument about other non-conforming service stations near by has no weight, because they were built before the zoning law, but are now prevented from expanding by this law.

5. Undoubtedly other parking

City Buys Insurance For Employees And Their Dependents

gether, and the insurance is a morale builder.

The company B plan is "most generous" he said. "It offered the greatest protection for the least premium."

William Laure and Allan Smith of New York Life, also local representative George Tomlinson, attended the meeting to go over with the council details of plan and answer questions.

In addition to Plaxton, the employees were represented by Sergeant William Ellis, police department representative; Maurice Grimshaw, for the fire department, and Ed Berger, street department.

All employees, their wives, children from infancy to 18 years, and other dependents, are covered; this includes city officials, both appointive or elective, so long as they remain in the employ of the city and work a minimum of 30 hours a week. Excluded are the city attorney and city engineer, who are on retainer and the city council which is unpaid.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution which the council will pass at its adjourned meeting February 29, so that the coverage can be effective March 1.

The council is free to cancel the policy at any time, so that future councils are not obligated.

Plans shown the commission by two Richfield representatives yesterday afternoon met with unofficial approval in several respects. The site coverage of the proposed structure will be 600 square feet less than present construction at this location. The ratio of planting will be 903 square feet to 8,000 square feet of site. Services areas will not face the street. Signs will be of carved redwood painted in soft tones of blue, and yellow. Carmel stone will face the building on street frontages.

Remodelling is dependent on renewal of the lease for the property, Richfield representatives stated, and added that the estimated cost of the reconstruction is $40,000.

Commissioners impressed on the Richfield representatives that the remodelling may establish new concepts for gas station construction in Carmel if changes, suggested by the commission, bring the building in line with the desirable aspects of the plans commissioners studied yesterday.

Commissioner Herbert Blanks indicated that central business district zoning now in preparation (the Doughnut Plan) may remove the gas station from the present non-conforming use classification. The Richfield men said construction would not start before May 15.

The unusual butterfly roof design of the two-story residence and garage planned for the rear of the Hofsas House created a difference of opinion among commissioners.

"I don't like this, it is outlandish, not in keeping with the simplicity desirable in Carmel," said Commissioner Florence Josselyn.

Commissioner Fred Keeble remarked that the unusual design would "Liven up a disastrous street," he was referring to the portion of Dolores Street which faces and backs on the multi-storied Hofsas House.

Commissioner Jessie McGregor remarked, "I find the design lots will be established in Carmel. Why set a precedent for any of them to ask for a service station for their patrons, if only it can be hidden behind a tree or a fence, regardless of the village zoning laws?

—Mrs. C. A. Broadbuss.

simple and modern."

"There is a danger of construction becoming too stereotyped in Carmel," was Commissioner Herbert Blanks' favorable opinion of the plans.

Other construction studied by commissioners yesterday was the glassing-in of the open covered walkway at the Drive-In Market. If planting was increased, commissioners favored this addition to store space at the market. They indicated unofficial approval of an addition to Carmel Foundation Town House and interior and exterior remodelling of apartments owned by G. O. C. Miller on Casanova Street.
